

Meet Max

Max is a typical 4 year-old boy in that he loves construction vehicles, playing in the dirt and riding his new bicycle. He's not the typical 4 year-old in that Max has cystic fibrosis. CF is a life-threatening disease that affects the body in many ways, but the most critical is the lungs. Max and others with CF spend more than an hour every day receiving breathing treatments and therapies just to help them breathe easier and keep their lungs as healthy as possible. There is currently no cure for CF.

We need your help in finding ways to fund additional research for new medications and treatments to ultimately beat this disease. Please get involved with the CureFinders program to help raise money for this very important cause. Max and thousands of other children who are affected by CF appreciate your help and support more than you know!
